

How to publish through GitHub online platform

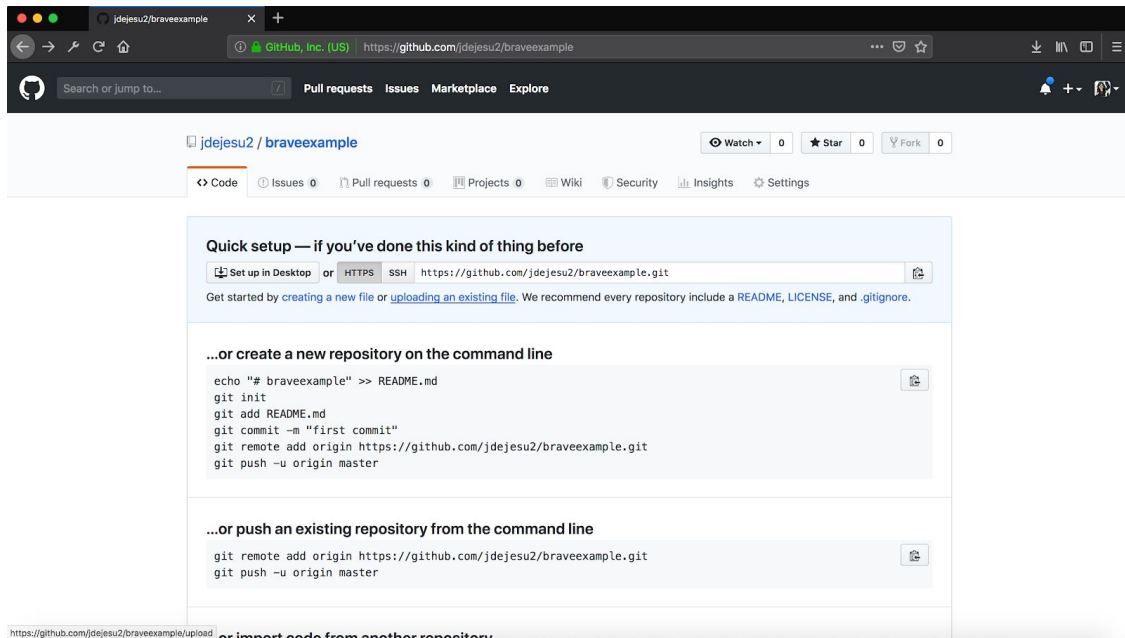

1. Select the green button to create a new repository on GitHub

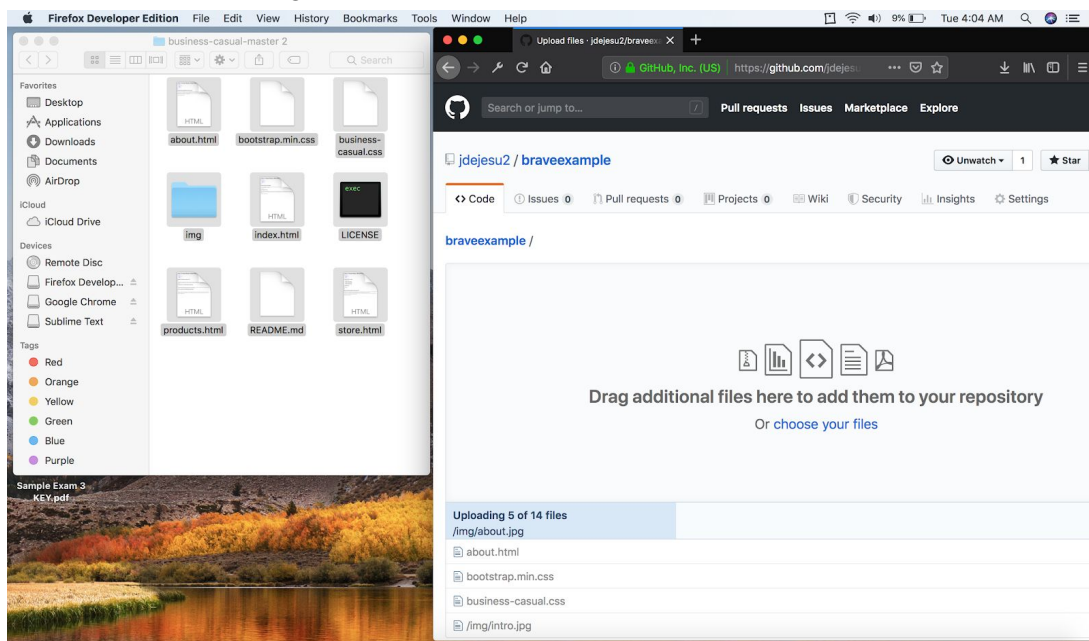

2. Now set the new owner of the repo as bravecamp, type a unique repo name, and make sure you DO NOT initialize a README for the repo

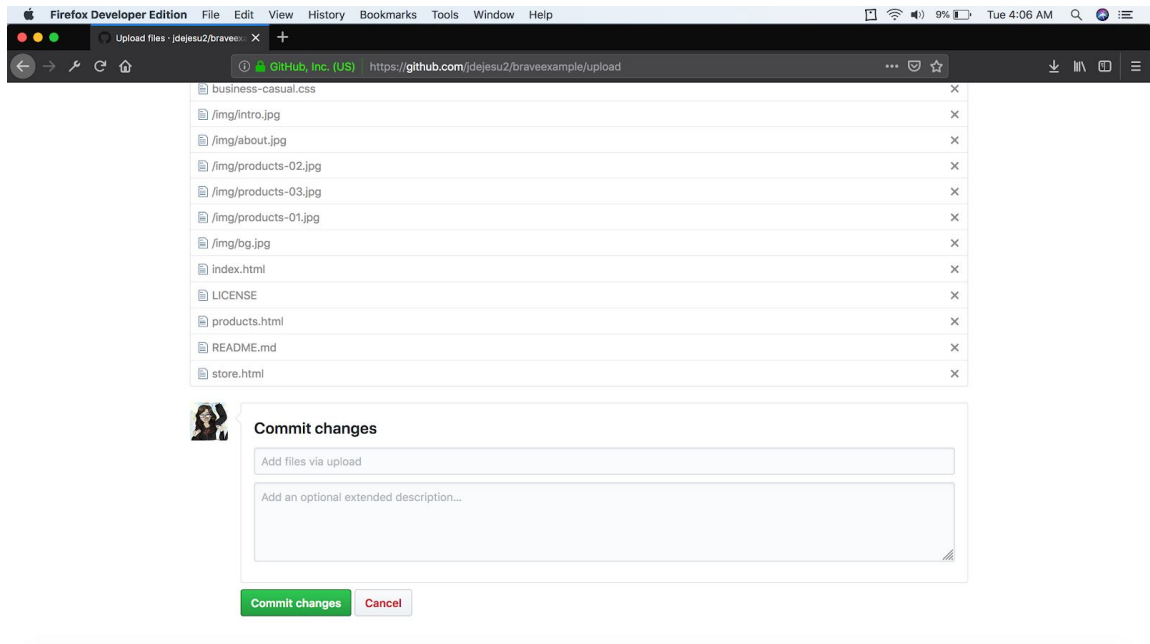

3. When getting to this next page, select uploading existing files

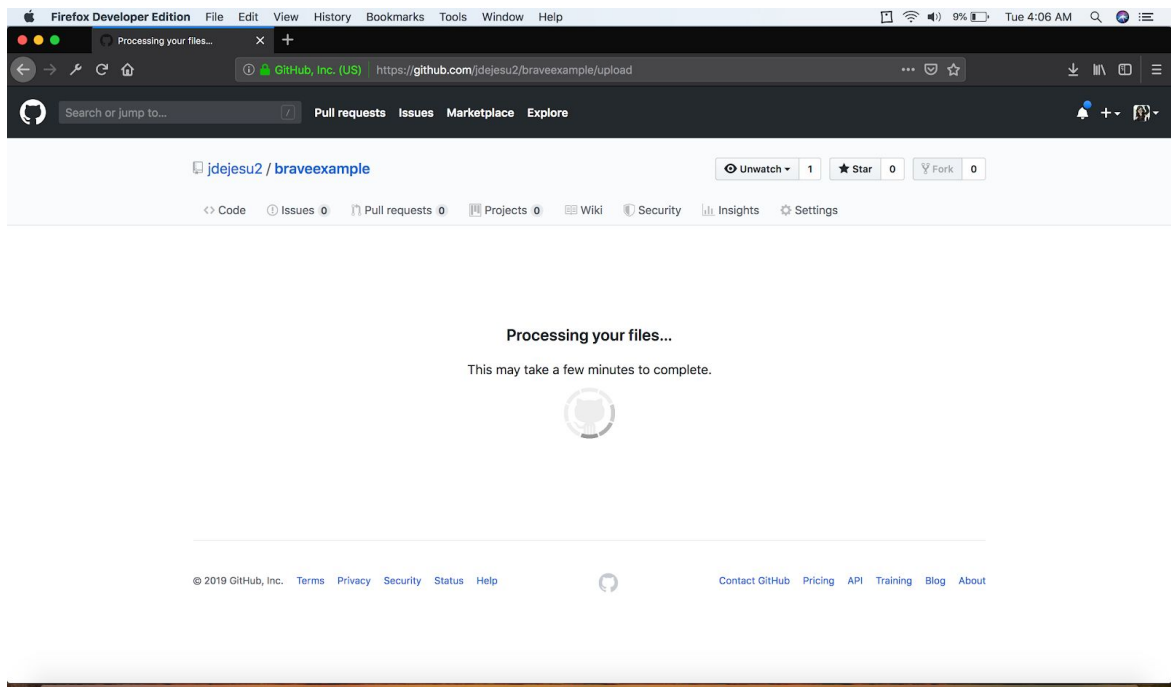

4. When uploading files, DO NOT UPLOAD ENTIRE FOLDER, select and drag the individual files and upload those. Make sure you always have an index.html file that will be read as a home page for the website

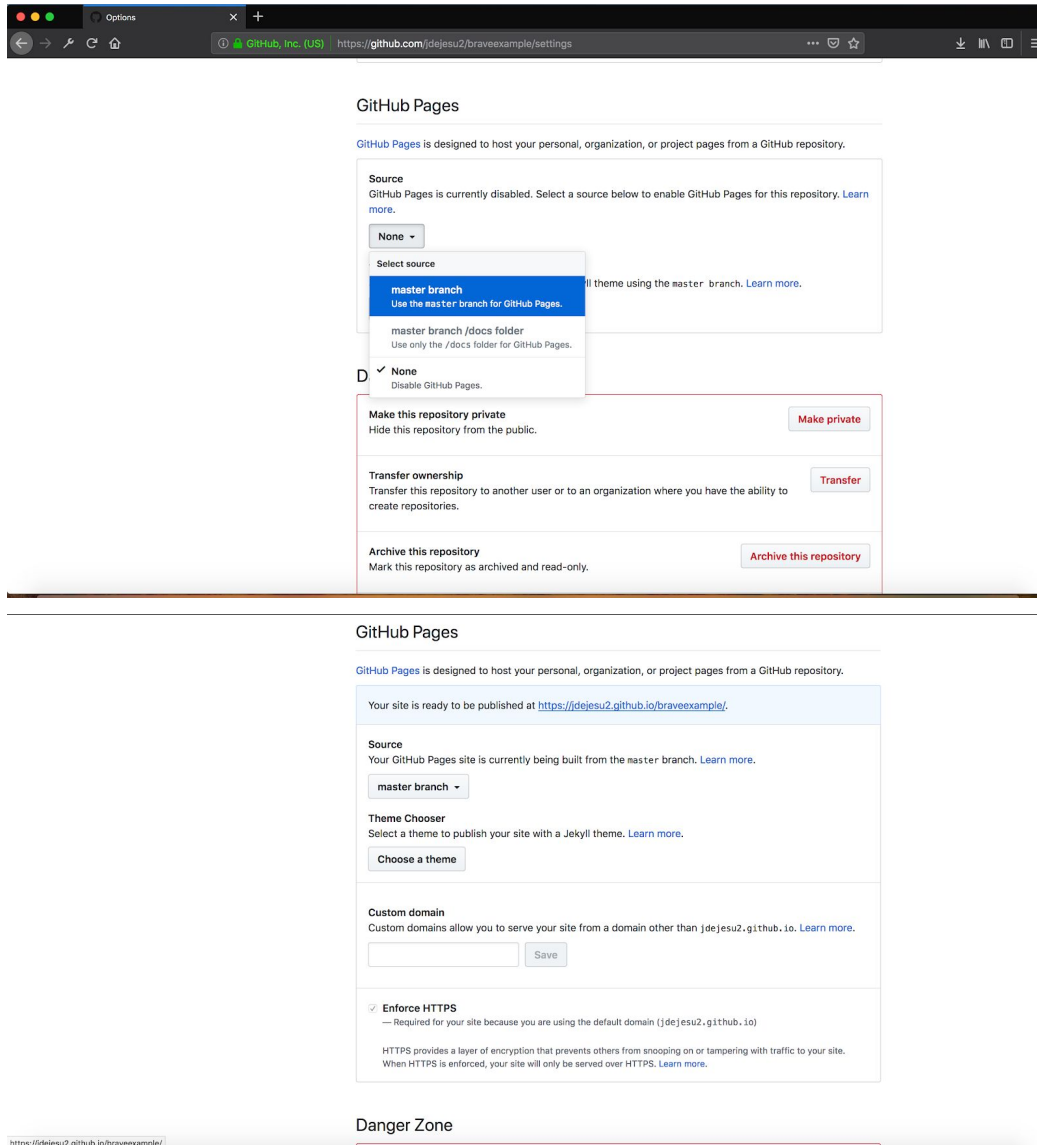

5. After the files are uploaded, commit the files

6. This is going to take a while, but eventually, all files should be all properly uploaded

* remember the website link is going to take a while to update and create, so give it a minute to finish

Good luck!!
